23RD ANNUAL GALA

WVU Medicine Golisano Children's

WVU Medicine Golisano Children's in Morgantown is West Virginia's premier provider of specialized maternal, infant, and pediatric care. Families from across the state and surrounding region turn to us for care ranging from routine pediatric services to the most complex and life-threatening conditions.

Our team of highly trained physicians, nurses, and specialists provides comprehensive care across nearly every pediatric specialty, including West Virginia's only pediatric cardiac surgery and pediatric neurosurgery programs. Our dedicated pediatric emergency department and trauma center ensures children have access to specialized care when they need it most.

In the past year alone, children received care at WVU Medicine Golisano Children's Hospital more than 180,000 times, reflecting the growing need for comprehensive pediatric care close to home.

Since opening in 2022, we have continued to expand our ability to serve West Virginia's youngest patients. With the support of our donors and community partners, we are creating a future where every child can access world-class care without leaving the state.

THE 23RD ANNUAL GALA

This year's Gala, Passport to Possibility, celebrates the opportunities that become possible when a community comes together for our youngest Mountaineers. Your support helps advance our mission and gives more children the opportunity to receive exceptional care, close to home.
